Bulacan Inflation report streamed live on social media.

The Philippine Statistics Authority (PSA) Bulacan presented the province's March 2025 inflation report during its monthly press conference on April 14, 2025 at 10 a.m. The conference was held online via Google Meet and streamed live on social media, providing real-time updates to the public.

According to the report, Bulacan's inflation rate remained steady at 2.0% in March 2025, showing no change from the previous month. This marks a significant improvement compared to the 7.7% inflation rate recorded in March 2024, reflecting a continued easing of price increases over the past year. The steady inflation rate indicates a positive shift in the local economy, which has been experiencing gradual price stabilization.

Live coverage of the Inflation report, conducted at PSO Bulacan.

Key contributors to the inflation rate in March 2025 included food and non-alcoholic beverages, alcoholic beverages and tobacco, and housing, water, electricity, gas, and other fuels. These sectors saw notable price movements, which played a major role in the overall inflation figure.

The monthly briefing was attended by various stakeholders from across the province, including local officials and representatives from different sectors. It serves to keep the public and key groups informed about current price trends and their impact on the local economy and household spending.
